Overview of Proposed Changes to Procedures 201.30 and 201.30.1
Draft – 7/30/2019

The proposal is to modify the following two procedures:

• Procedure 201.30 – Criteria for Evaluating Curriculum Changes:
  Currently mostly addresses criteria for adding new courses and for modifying existing courses (it has only a small section on program changes)

• Procedure 201.30.1 – Adding New Courses:
  Currently addresses criteria for adding new courses (mostly duplicating language from Procedure 201.30, but at times in conflict with Procedure 201.30)

The goal of the proposed changes is to add criteria for evaluating program modifications, and to resolve the conflicts between these two procedures. The revised Procedure 201.30 mostly addresses the review of program changes, while the revised Procedure 201.30.1 addresses the review of course proposals. The main proposed changes are:

• Procedure 201.30:
  o Add a new section regarding affected departments and programs (mostly describing what is current practice)
  o Move the criteria for evaluating new courses and modifying existing courses into the renamed Procedure 201.30.1
  o Add a new list of review criteria for adding new programs and modifying existing programs

• Procedure 201.30.1:
  o Retitle to “Criteria for Evaluating Course Proposals”
  o Move the relevant parts of Procedure 201.30 into 201.30.1, reconciling the differences
  o Other changes to existing review criteria, and a few new review criteria
