Your W2 – Defined

Please click each box to link directly to the corresponding definition.

Box 1 – Wages, tips, other compensation
This is the amount that you report on your federal tax return, form 1040, as taxable income. This is your total wages for the year less amounts that you paid into (1) retirement (PERS, TRS, TIAA-CREF, GWP); (2) annuities (Valic, Cref, Deferred Comp, MetLife, etc); (3) medical premiums above and beyond the state contribution; (4) amounts deferred into Flexible spending plans for medical care and dependent care, and (5) parking decals deducted through payroll deduction.

Box 2 – Federal income tax withheld
The total amount withheld from your wages for the payment of federal income taxes – report this amount on your federal tax return, form 1040.

Box 3 – Social security wages
The dollar amount that social security taxes are assessed on at the rate of 6.2% (change to 4.2%) for the employee. Your employer also contributes to the social security system on your behalf at the rate of 6.2%. The amount in this box is based on your total wages for the year less any amounts that were contributed to (1) medical premiums above and beyond the state contribution; (2) amounts deferred into Flexible spending plans for medical care and dependent care; and (3) parking decals deducted through payroll deduction.

Box 4 – Social security tax withheld
The tax on the amount in box 3 at a rate of 6.2% (change to 4.2%)

Box 8 - will be empty

Box 9 – Advance EIC payment
If you completed form W5 and claimed eligibility for the Earned Income Credit then this is the amount that you received from the federal government. You will need this number when completing your federal tax return, form 1040.

Box 10 – Dependent Care benefits
This is the amount that was deducted from your paycheck as a pre-tax item and made available to you through the flexible spending plan for paying your childcare expenses. You may treat up to $5,000 as a pre-tax amount for this purpose. If the amount in this box is over $5,000, then the excess has been added to your applicable gross income in boxes 1, 3, 5, and 16 so that you are taxed correctly.

Box 11 - will be empty

Box 12 – Annuity amounts

Important Note: When filing your federal and state tax returns.
The amounts that are deducted from your paycheck to cover the costs of the medical plan you choose (those that are over and above the amount that the State of Montana contributes to your health care plan) are deducted on a “pre-tax” basis. What this means is that you cannot include these amounts as part of your itemized deductions on your tax returns – you have already received the tax benefit of these amounts NOT being included in your taxable gross in either box 1 or box 16. The same applies to medical bills that you pay with money that you have deferred through the medical flexible spending plan. You cannot include these medical bills as part of your itemized deductions.
