Application Deadline: Nov 4, 2011

Saunter streets dotted with a kaleidoscope of brightly painted houses, share a cup of coffee with your Doña during your homestay, learn to dance the merengue, work in community schools and orphanages, construct a floor for a Dominican family, and participate in a reforestation project. This two-week wintersession course will deepen your understanding of Hispanic culture by exploring issues of education and poverty and completing a series of service learning projects in the southwestern region of the Dominican Republic.
