Numbers of stems of trees counted in 5m-radius sampling circles declined with decreasing Snowfall across years. Partial correlations correct for lag effects of snowfall two years prior which are as strong as relationships shown here relative to snowfall in the prior winter.