HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT OF HUMANE LETTERS

MAE NAN ELLINGSON

Mae Nan (Robinson) Ellingson was born in Mineral Wells, TX and graduated from Mineral Wells High School in 1965. She attended Weatherford College before moving to Missoula and receiving her BA in Political Science with Honors from the University of Montana in 1970. While at UM, she was a member of the American Association of University Women, the Pi Sigma Alpha National Political Science Honor Society, and the Phi Alpha Theta National History Honor Society.

Ellingson was a young widow attending UM graduate school under the tutelage of noted Professor Ellis Waldron when he persuaded her to run for the 1972 Constitutional Convention. At age 24, she was the youngest delegate to serve and one of only 19 women out of the 100 delegates.

At the Convention, she led proposals for the state's bill of rights, particularly related to equal rights for women, and she and delegate Bob Campbell are credited with the language in the Constitution's preamble. She was named one of the Convention's "Ten Outstanding Constitutional Convention Delegates."

During the convention, a fellow delegate suggested that she consider law school and a year later she enrolled at the UM School of Law. After receiving her JD with Honors (including serving on the Law Review and Moot Court), Ellingson worked for the Missoula City Attorney's office for six years, focusing on landmark projects. During her tenure, Missoula became the first city to issue open space bonds, allowing it to secure its first easement on Mount Sentinel and create the trail along the riverfront. She also helped develop a sign ordinance for the city of Missoula.

She became a partner at Dorsey & Whitney and worked there until her retirement in 2012. As bond counsel, Ellingson focused on great public projects. At the state level, she helped form the Montana Municipal Insurance Authority, shaped MT's tax increment law, and was a fixture in the MT Legislature when they were debating equal rights. Ellingson considers her most important work for the state to be setting up the Intercap Program that allowed local governments to borrow money from the state at a low interest rate.

An initial fellow to the American College of Bond Counsel in 1995, Ellingson has earned numerous awards, including being named a Super Lawyer in the Rocky Mountain West and one of "America's Leading Business Lawyers" by Chambers USA (Rank 1). She has also belonged to many organizations, such as the American College of Bond Counsel and the Board of Visitors of the UM Law School. Ellingson is also a philanthropist and board member for many organizations, such as the Missoula Art Museum.
