Travel safely and see you in the Fall!

Welcome to Summer Orientation at The University of Montana!

We're glad you're here and we hope you enjoy your time on campus and in Missoula.

In order to be successful at Orientation, we urge you to remember these important tips:

- Attend all Small Group Meetings! The events marked with a bear paw  are extremely important for you to attend.
- The events marked with an * are offered for both you and your family.
- Ask Questions! The Advocates are your student hosts, and they want to answer your questions. They'll be easy to find by their Orientation shirts and "Ask Me" buttons.
- Orientation Central is open each day of Orientation. It's the information center and serves as the message headquarters if you need to contact anyone attending Orientation.
- Bring your information packet with you to each event. There are important materials in the packets that you'll need during the meetings.

Welcome to UM!

*TRiO Student Support Services

Eager to learn the ropes of navigating your way through the university? Join TRiO! Because the mission of TRiO Student Support Services is to provide a range of academic support services to eligible students to make sure they stay enrolled and graduate from UM! TRiO provides a coordinated array of academic support services including a course designed specifically for students to practice and implement study skills, math tutoring, personal advising, a book loan program; and special workshops for students.

University Center Room 215

*Internship Services 101

Want to try on your major and see if it's a good career fit? Interested in applying what you've learned in the classroom out in the working world? How about an internship? The Office of Internship Services maintains a database of internships for a variety of majors, placing students in various organizations in Missoula, across Montana, the nation, and the world. We assist in developing customized internships as well as providing resume and cover letter assistance. In this session we will walk you through these steps.

University Center Room 224

*Getting Involved on campus – how to make a difference and have fun at UM

The Associated Students of The University of Montana are more than just a student government. Our organization strives to make the most of every student's time here by offering services such as buses for commuters, advice and resources for students living off-campus, concerts, and funding and support for student groups. ASUM officers will share information about the services and resources we offer, opportunities for student involvement through student groups, and how to get your voice heard at UM.

Resident Technology Assistants will discuss DirectConnect, the high speed computer data access for students living in Residence Halls and Lewis & Clark Villages which is critical for success at UM. Those attending this workshop will gain an edge by knowing what is required to quickly and easily connect a computer on campus. Attendees will also learn what resources Residence Life and campus staff provide, such as labs, cable TV, telephones, and email!

University Center Room 330

*Diversity at UM

The University of Montana prides itself on its wide array of diversity opportunities. In this session you will be given the tools and resources to explore this institution's many Diversity Programs. The goal of this session is to help you find your niche and become a strong leader on campus and in the world.

University Center Theater, 3rd floor

*Dining Services 101

This session is designed for students and parents who want to know more about food on campus. We'll talk about how to choose a meal plan and get the most value from it, how to make healthful food choices, the best kept food secrets on campus, and nutrition services available to all students. This session is taught by University Dining Services' dietitian and assistant director in charge of meal plans, so you'll get the official word on meal plans and eating well on campus!

University Center Room 329

*Get Involved: UC Student Involvement and Leadership Development

Learn, Entertain, Achieve, and Develop: Your keys to success at UM! The University Center (UC) at the UM offers many opportunities for students to get involved with life beyond the academic classroom. Are you interested in developing your leadership skills? Have you always wanted to know more about different cultures? Do you know where to play pool and Xbox with your friends? Are you looking for some inexpensive entertainment on the weekends? Do you need a fun job on campus? UC Student Involvement and Leadership Development (SILD) offers all those for you!

*What Students with Disabilities Should Know about Course Scheduling

Disability Services works with students to ensure that they have a level playing field at the University of Montana. For incoming students with disabilities creating a course schedule that takes into account the functional limitations of their disability can be a key factor in getting a good start at UM. Disability Services can provide the inside scoop on questions like, "How many credits should I attempt per semester?", "When should I take courses I have concerns about?", "How do I talk to my advisor about my disability?" The Disability Services staff will discuss the issues of advising on campus and are happy to answer questions students and parents may have. Please join us.

University Center Room 331

*Travel the Globe

The University of Montana offers exciting opportunities to study abroad in one of 45 different countries through three different programs: UM faculty-directed programs, our partner university agreements with 50 foreign universities, and the International Student Exchange Program (ISEP). Attend this informational meeting to learn more about your opportunities.

University Center Room 326/327

*Your Future Begins Today

Academic and career planning are major aspects of being successful in both college and life. Attend this session to learn about how the office of Career Services can help you identify your chosen career path and pick the appropriate academic major. Need a job now? Learn about on and off-campus student employment opportunities.

* Math Placement Scores: You have questions, we have answers . . .

Dr. Dave Patterson, Chair of the Math Department, and Sharon O'Hare, Director of the Math Learning Centers, will host a Q&A session for students and parents regarding math placement at The University. Find out:

- What does a LEVEL 3 placement score mean?
- Which one of the four math tracks does my major follow?
- Can I enroll in a course below my placement?
- Now that I'm here on campus, can I still take my placement test?
- I'm disappointed with my ALEKS placement score - can I re-take the placement test?
- What can I do to improve my math placement score?

We'll go over your options for improving your ALEKS placement score BEFORE starting classes in the fall; there will be time at the end of the session to ask specific questions regarding your placement score and the math requirements for your major.

Urey Lecture Hall

Wednesday

12:00 Noon

Music Theory Assessment

If you're majoring in Music or plan to take a music theory course, you should take this one-hour assessment. This will assess your music theory ability and recommends placement in both the 100-level or 200-level theory and aural perception courses. Test results will be posted Thursday.
