Who We Are?

- Grace Gardner
  Director of UM Summer
- Becka Simons
  Associate Director of UM Summer
- Carli White
  Student Intern for UM Summer
As you think about this summer at UM, do you have any hesitations and/or concerns?
What are your hesitations and/or concerns about taking courses through UM this summer?

• Taking a difficult class online
• Working full time, balancing family (non-traditional students)
• Experiential and field-oriented courses that are more challenging to offer online (one of the highlights of UM is to be outside in the summer)
• Out-of-State tuition
• Finances & Cost
• Amount of work
• Communication & classes canceled “too early”
• More challenging to complete the work when it’s remote/online
• Lack of communication about how courses will run

What topics and/or questions would you like to see addressed about summer during the Zoom session?

• Tutoring
• Cost, Fees, Financial Aid & Payment Options (asked by many students)
• Resources for taking courses online?
• General help with home resources – No a/c in the house, childcare, balance, etc.
• How is UM going to offer outdoor/field-courses remotely?
• Intensity of work load
• Will class size increase now that we are remote/online?
• Which facilities WILL be open?
• Switch to in-person if possible?
Remote Delivery Summer Discount

Key Points as of April 22, 2020:

• UM will be applying a Remote Delivery Summer Discount to your account that will partially offset tuition and mandatory fee charges this summer.

• The size of the discount will vary by student based on residency status, number of credits and other individual factors.

• The Remote Delivery Summer Discount is not available to students enrolled in online-only courses, as these programs have lower tuition and fee charges.

• You do NOT need to complete any forms or make any special requests to receive this discount. It is our gift to you to help continue your studies at UM in a very challenging time.

• For those of you who have already paid your full tuition for summer, you will be receiving a credit on your student account. For those who have not paid, you will see the Remote Delivery Summer Discount credit applied to your account in the next few days. If you have already received a summer financial aid award, it will be adjusted to reflect this change as well.

MASTERING THE HIDDEN CURRICULUM
HIGHER EDUCATION IS FRAUGHT WITH HIDDEN RULES, NORMS, VALUES, AND EXPECTATIONS—that govern students' interactions with faculty, staff, and peers. This course will introduce and equip students with the skills and cultural capital to navigate UM's academic and social landscape. The course will emphasize students' individual identities, including, but not limited to, those who identify as BIPOC, first-generation, low-income, and/or first-generation students. By taking this course, students will possess knowledge of available UM support systems, such as academic and personal success, and greater understanding of and awareness about their identity and its place at UM.

COURSE BENEFITS:
- Become knowledgeable of and interact with campus resources.
- Understand personal identity in the context of higher education.
- Develop a sense of belonging at UM through meaningful community building.
- Develop competencies needed to navigate all aspects of college.
- Understand hidden rules and hone academic and personal strengths to promote college success.

MOUNTAIN MONTANA
An intensive day-long hands-on course combining lecture with field outings

Instructor:
J. K. S. REESE D. REESE, GEOG., GEOG. SCH. & ENVIRON. SCH.
DEPT. OF GEOGRAPHY, U. OF MONTANA

Course Description:
Through a variety of field activities, students will be introduced to the human and natural history of western Montana. Daily activities include a field trip to the campus to explore the natural history of the region. Lectures will focus on the history and culture of the region and how it relates to the social and economic development of the area.

Course Outcome:
Students completing this course will have an understanding of the human and natural history of western Montana. They will be able to apply this knowledge to real-world problems and make informed decisions about the management of natural resources.

Next Steps & Feedback on enhancing YOUR summer experience!
Please provide any other questions and/or feedback about how we can enhance the UM Summer experience for you.

• Clear and continual communication
• Random giveaways
• Don’t cancel a class before the date ending registration
• Maintain flexibility with work and schedules
• More financial leeway
• Increase in scholarships
• Focus on traditional on-line, live lectures not going well
• “Don’t cancel it”
• Hope for the future
