Additional Readings on ERES

Course Description: LS 151 is an introduction to the Western Humanities through an investigation of selected texts from the Hebrew Bible/Old Testament, classical Greek civilization, the New Testament and early Christian literature. The goal is to explore Western Culture through its Jewish, Greek, Roman and Christian heritages while developing critical approaches for analyzing literature. Topics will include: conception of the self, family, community, and cosmos; the role of myth, symbols, and rituals; the human condition; interpretations of the heroic; conceptions of good and evil; the role of gender, class, and ethnicity; the nature of the good life; conceptions of creation, time, and temporality; the language of love and desire; ideas of virtue, wisdom, piety, justice, and law; the individual and the state.

Methods: The MWF class is not a lecture course. It is a reading, discussion, and writing course. I will present certain biographical, historical and cultural information to provide you with a context for your readings, discussions, and writings. I will propose my own interpretations of the texts we read, but you are not expected to accept these interpretations blindly. Each reader brings his or her own experiences to a literary text. If you disagree with my reading of a text, you should feel free to say so. Your active participation is essential and counts as part of your grade.

You will hear many different opinions and ideas during this course, some of which you may disagree with. I expect each student to respect the opinions and beliefs of his or her classmates and for the level of discourse in class to remain civil and academic.
Classroom Etiquette: No food will be allowed in class. Students should arrive on time. All cell phones must be turned off. Students may use laptop computers to take notes. Students should not access the internet while in class.

Attendance: This is a discussion course and attendance is required. After 2 unexcused absences, your participation grade will be lowered one notch for each subsequent absence (A to A-). An excess of 6 absences may result in an F in the course. A failure to prepare and participate may also be grounds for being counted absent. Tardiness will not be tolerated. Two tardies will equal one absence. There will be NO make-up exams or late submission of homework for unexcused absences. If you are sick or have some other emergency, please contact me. Failure to attend the first two classes will result in the student being dropped.

Plenary Lecture: The fourth credit of this class is the Thursday Plenary Lecture. Attendance at the lecture is mandatory—Thursday 11:10-12:00, ULH. You are required to submit response papers based on the lectures and information from them will be included on quizzes and exams.

Grading:

Preparation and Participation (inc. quizzes and reading questions): 15%
Composition (5% for Rough Draft) 25%
Response Papers: 20%
Midterm Exam: 20%
Final Exam: 20%

Grading Scale:

93-100% A
90-92% A-
87-89% B+
83-86% B
80-82% B-
77-79% C+
73-76% C
70-72% C-
67-69% D+
63-66% D
60-62% D-
59% and below F
Preparation and Participation: Coming to class prepared, i.e. having read all material and attended the plenary lecture, and ready to participate in discussions is essential and counts for a large percentage of your final grade. Participation does not merely mean responding when called upon but showing a willingness to raise your hand and enter discussions. For each class session you must prepare 2 questions from the readings for that session for a total of 6 per week. You must turn in your questions with each response paper. Questions may be handwritten. Your questions will direct our class discussions and you will regularly be required to share them with the class. Classroom work will include both general discussions and small group discussions. Quizzes on lectures and readings may be given at the beginning of class as needed.

Compositions: You will write one formal composition this semester of 5-7 pages. A few weeks prior to the due date you will be required to submit a rough draft of your composition (minimum of 3.5 pages). Essays must conform to the basic standards of proper composition. They should be typed, double-spaced with 12-point font, 1-inch margins. Compositions must be carefully organized with proper paragraphing, correct sentence structure, and appropriate punctuation. You will be graded not just on content but also on organization, rhetorical skills, strength of argument including supporting evidence, and adherence to the convention of standard, written English.

I will provide you with a handout with tips on writing compositions. Composition topics will be distributed one month before the composition is due.

You may wish to visit the following website for information about formatting your essay: http://owl.english.purdue.edu/handouts/print/research/r_mla.html

An essay is not an occasion to show how well you can quote, paraphrase or summarize an author, but how well you can think as an explorer of the work and ideas of your author. Any utilization of the words or work of others (including ideas) in an essay, oral presentation, or exam must be given full reference credit. Failure to do so constitutes plagiarism. If you have questions about proper citation and/or plagiarism, please see me.

Response Papers: In addition to the formal composition you will write this semester, you will also be expected to write two-page responses to the plenary lectures and readings every other week. There is no specific format for your response papers. The sole requirement is that they be well-organized and show some engagement and reflection on the material presented by the lecturers and make links with the readings for class. Your responses papers must be typed, double-spaced with 12-point font, 1-inch margins. You must turn in a hard copy of your response papers. No electronic papers will be accepted.

Exams: You will take two exams this semester. The exams will consist of short essays and identifications from the material studied. The final exam will cover themes studied during the whole semester but will concentrate on the readings and lectures since the mid-term.

LS 151: Introduction to the Humanities
Fall Semester 2008
Section 8 (Honors): TTh 2:10-3:30 pm (DHC 118), Th 11:10-12:00 (ULH)

Welcome to LS 151, Introduction to the Humanities. In this course we will read and discuss a selection of texts from the ancient world. We will devote special attention to classics of the Greco-Roman, Jewish, and Christian traditions. These literary masterpieces are beautiful and challenging. Together we will explore how their authors encountered and responded to enduring human themes and problems including: humanity and deity; knowledge and ignorance; virtue and justice; fate and human destiny; life and death; friendship and love; sex and gender; individual and society; weakness and power; war and peace; happiness and suffering; good and evil; myth and history; exile and return; truth and change.

Goals of the course include the development of critical reading skills, through a focus on historical and literary contexts, and the development of writing skills, through a process that will allow me to measure your improvement.

Textbooks
All required. Please purchase the indicated translations (available at the UM Bookstore):

The Epic of Gilgamesh (Trans. George; Penguin, 2003)
Homer, The Odyssey (Trans. Fagles; Penguin, 1996)
Greek Lyric (Trans. Miller; Hackett, 1996)
Sophocles I (Oedipus Cycle) (Trans. Grene; Chicago,1991)
Plato, Five Dialogues (Trans. Grube; Hackett, 2002)

E-reserve: e-reserve documents may be accessed through the Mansfield Library Course Reserves website (http://eres.lib.umt.edu/eres/) using the course password “LS151”

Grading:
1. Attendance and class participation: 15%
2. Quizzes and written responses: 10%
3. Essays: 35% total (essay #1: 5%; essays #2, 3, 4: 10 % each)
4. Midterm exam: 20%
5. Final exam: 20%
Course Requirements:

1. Attendance: Required for all class meetings and for all weekly plenary lectures.

2. Readings: Complete all readings before the class on which they are assigned, and be prepared to participate in our discussion about them. Always bring the assigned text to class with you.

3. Quizzes: Several brief quizzes will be given on course readings, class discussions, and plenary lectures. These quizzes are designed to test whether you have been reading the assignments and attending class. They will focus on the assigned texts and on information communicated in course lectures and discussions.

4. Brief (1-2 pp) written responses to plenary lectures and assigned class readings will be required from students on a rotating basis.

5. Essays: There are four essay assignments for this class:
   i. An essay of 3-5 pages will be due in class on Tuesday September 16.
   ii. A revision and expansion of this essay (5-7 pages) will be due in class on Thursday October 9.
   iii. An essay of 3-5 pages will be due in class on Thursday November 6.
   iv. A revision and expansion (5-7 pages) of this essay will be due in class on Tuesday December 2.

   These essays will focus on selected assigned readings and will be based on a set of topics distributed and discussed in class. The essays must (a) address selected texts/topics (b) have a clear thesis/argument (c) support the argument with textual evidence and (d) adhere to the conventions of academic writing, including correct grammar and syntax. They must be typed, double-spaced, page-numbered, and stapled.

6. Exams:
   i. A midterm exam will be given in class on Thursday, October 16.
   ii. A final exam will be given on Wednesday, December 10, 3:20-5:20 PM.

Course Policies:

1) There will be no make-up quizzes or exams unless the student has made arrangements at least a week ahead of time. Except in the case of a documented emergency, late papers will result in a decrease of one letter grade per day.

2) Students are allowed two cuts, no penalties or questions asked. Each additional cut (including early departures from the classroom) will reduce the attendance and participation grade by 10% (that is, 1% of your final grade). If you must miss a class meeting due to an emergency, it is then your responsibility to obtain from a classmate any class notes and other assignment and scheduling information discussed during your absence.

3) Plagiarism – the presentation of others' work as your own – is an offense punishable by course failure and/or expulsion. All work submitted in this class must be your own, and all references to ideas from books, articles, or other sources must be cited correctly. If you do not know how to properly reference your work, or you are in doubt whether or not you should cite material, refer to the University guidelines, or make an appointment to see the instructor to discuss the problem. Anyone found guilty of plagiarism, cheating, forgery, falsification or any other form of academic dishonesty will fail this course and the incident will be reported to the Dean.
Class Schedule:

*Note: Our schedule may change as our course develops (dates, assignments, etc.); regular attendance will ensure that you are informed of any changes.

Course Structure and Objectives
This course is designed to introduce the student to the study of the humanities through a focus on selective texts from the Medieval to the Modern periods that have shaped Western civilization. We will explore the formation and transformation of some Western worldviews and themes, and reflect on how they have shaped and influenced society and culture today. The emphases of the course are engaging in close readings of the primary texts, discussing, and writing about those texts.

A classic is a book that has never finished saying what it has to say. A classic is something that tends to relegate the concerns of the moment to the status of background noise, but at the same time this background noise is something we cannot do without. (Conversely) A classic is something that persists as a background noise even when the most incompatible momentary concerns are in control of the situation.
—Italo Calvino

"Classics are certain texts, events, images, rituals, symbols and persons (in which we acknowledge) a disclosure of a reality we cannot but name truth… some disclosures of reality in a moment of ‘recognition’ which surprises, provokes, challenges, shocks, and eventually transforms us; an experience that upsets conventional opinions and expands the sense of the possible; indeed a realized experience of that which is essential, that which endures – the presence of classics in every culture is undeniable. Their memory haunts us. Their actual effects in our lives endure and await ever new appropriations, constantly new interpretations.
—David Tracy

Grading Policy

Two short essays: 10 percent (25 pts. each)
Longer essay plus revision: 30 percent (150 pts.)
Midterm exam: 20 percent (100 pts.)
Final exam: 30 percent (150 pts.)
Participation: 10 percent (50 pts.)

Grades given reflect the following criteria of judgment and will be recorded using pluses and minuses:

F: Failure to meet minimum requirements
D: Unsatisfactory, but some effort to meet minimum requirements
C: Satisfactory; meet minimum requirements of assignment but not much more
B: Good to Very Good: thoughtful reflection, good analysis, clear writing style
A: Excellent depth of critical analysis, thoughtfulness of reflection, and writing style; demonstrate creativity and mature analytical skills in going beyond the primary requirements of the assignment

Papers: Papers are due in class on or before the date listed in the syllabus. Unless you have made a prior agreement with me, I will take off one grade level (e.g., A becomes A-) for each class day an assignment is late. Papers with an undue number of errors of punctuation, spelling, or grammar will be returned ungraded for correction and marked down half a letter grade. Written work will be evaluated in terms of the strength and accuracy of your exposition of the texts, your depth of critical analysis, thoughtfulness of reflection, clarity of writing, and ability to address issues raised in the text and in class on the topic at hand.

Exams: Exams must be taken at the scheduled time unless prior permission has been obtained from me for an alternate time. The final exam may only be rescheduled if you have two other exams scheduled for the same day. Failure to take the exam at the scheduled time will result in no credit given for the exam with no make-up possibility.

Participation: Regular attendance and participation in the class and at the weekly plenary lecture is expected. Participation also means having read assigned materials prior to class time and being ready and willing to participate in discussions, offer perspectives, and answer questions. More than five (5) absences will result in one grade reduction. More than ten (10) absences will result in a failing course grade. Late arrivals in class may count as an absence. (Note: If you have a valid reason for missing several classes, such as illness or other conflicting commitments, you still must speak with me).

Academic Dishonesty and Plagiarism: All work submitted is expected to be the student’s own. Any acts of plagiarism or academic dishonesty will result in automatic failure of the course and may result in further academic punishment. If you have any doubts about definitions of plagiarism or academic dishonesty, please review the relevant sections of the University Catalog.
Description of Assignments

1. Short Essays: Two short, two-to-three-page essays are required. Each should be a critical response to a selection from the readings. After reading the text, write (1) three to four paragraphs that summarize and explain the main points of the reading and (2) three to four paragraphs giving your thoughtful response and discussion of the reading. The main objective is for you to identify and wrestle with a tough question or theme that the reading raises for you and attempt to offer your perspective on that issue. I will distribute a grade criteria sheet in class prior to the due dates.

2. Longer Essay: This 5-6-page, typed essay is an opportunity for you to consider a theme, key term, or other consideration(s) from the texts we read up to the due date for the paper. Use the text to support a well-constructed argument for the theme. We will discuss paper topics in class prior to the due date of April 6. You also will have the option to revise and resubmit this essay, due April 23.

3. Midterm Exam: will cover material from the plenary lectures, assigned readings, and class discussions. The format will likely be mixed, including multiple choice, short-answer essays, and/or longer essay questions. Wednesday, March 21.

4. Final Exam: The final will cover material from the second part of the semester and will ask you to integrate your learning from across the semester. I will likely have the same format as the midterm exam, but the final exam will be longer. Monday, May 7, 10:10 a.m. – 12:10 p.m.

5. Plenary Lectures are given at 11:10 am - 12:00 pm in ULH (Urey Lecture Hall) and repeated at 7:10-8:00 pm in SS (Social Sciences) 352. You must attend one of these weekly lectures each week.

Credit/No Credit Grade option: A minimum grade average of D- is required for a CR grade in the CR/NC Grade option.

Incomplete Grade: Please see the criteria that must be met for an Incomplete in the University Catalog.
