Offered Autumn or Spring. Prereq., completion of BMGT 322 and BMKT 325, or consent of instructor. The course introduces students to the challenges and opportunities companies face and how they manage the risk associated with the global supply chain. It provides an overview of global supply chain operations management as a field and describes the strategic role it has in today's intensely competitive business environment.

BMGT 480 - Cross-Cultural Mgmt

III JUSTIFICATION

Supply Chain Management is a topic of increasing importance within management and operations of the modern firm. It is taught in most business schools, including UM/SoBA. This new course looks at Supply Chain Management from an international business perspective, clearly an aspect that is critical to SCM. We have offered the new course as a 491 Special Topics course during the past two spring semesters. Classes were well enrolled with 40 students. This 491 course replaced another required course (BMGT 465) for International Business majors.

After all signatures have been obtained, submit original, and an electronic file to the Faculty Senate Office, UH 221. An electronic copy of the original signed form is acceptable.
