If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the programs in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, list all traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, list all alternative programs within the IHE. You may edit, delete, and insert new rows as necessary.

After reviewing and updating as necessary, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page. The system will automatically total the number of programs for you.

Supervised Clinical Experience

Provide the following information about supervised clinical experience in 2017-18. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(C\)\(iii\), §205\(a\)\(1\)\(C\)\(iv\))

Additional guidance on reporting supervised clinical experience and nonclinical coursework.

Average number of clock hours of supervised clinical experience required prior to student teaching	142.5
Average number of clock hours required for student teaching	640
Average number of clock hours required for mentoring/induction support	0
Number of full-time equivalent faculty supervising clinical experience during this academic year	13
Number of adjunct faculty supervising clinical experience during this academic year (IHE and PreK-12 staff)	82
Number of students in supervised clinical experience during this academic year	384

Please provide any additional information about or descriptions of the supervised clinical experiences:

Average hours required prior to student teaching includes 210 hours for elementary and 75 hours for secondary and K-12. FTE adjunct faculty includes adjunct faculty and those under contract through UM as University Supervisors. It does not include all K-12 teachers working with UM students as these individuals are not considered adjunct faculty per University definition. Adding these individuals would add 200+ more people.

Enrollment

THIS PAGE INCLUDES:

On this page, enter the number of candidates for an initial teaching credential who are enrolled in the initial teacher preparation programs within your institution of higher education (IHE) or organization. Do not report on the total number of students enrolled in the entire IHE. Do not include individuals who currently hold a teaching credential and are seeking additional licenses or endorsements, or individuals preparing for school-based careers other than classroom teachers (e.g., administrators, guidance counselors).

The Department recognizes that in many cases, candidates voluntarily report their race/ethnicity and gender data, and that in some cases, candidates may choose not to report this information. Please report on the race/ethnicity data you have available, though the data may not be complete. It is not expected that the sum of the enrolled students reported by race/ethnicity or by gender will necessarily equal the total number of students enrolled.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the candidates enrolled in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the candidates enrolled in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the candidates enrolled in the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the enrollment data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Enrollment

For the purpose of Title II reporting, an enrolled student is defined as a student who has been admitted to a teacher preparation program, but who has not completed the program during the academic year being reported. An individual who completed the program during the academic year being reported is counted as a program completer and not an enrolled student.

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled. Teachers Prepared

On this page, enter the number of program completers by the subject area in which they were prepared to teach, and by their academic majors. Note that an individual can be counted in more than one academic major and subject area. For example, if an individual is prepared to teach Elementary Education and Mathematics, that individual should be counted in both subject areas. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major or subject area, you may leave the cell blank. Please use the "Other" category sparingly, if there is no similar subject area or academic major listed. In these cases, you should use the text box to describe the subject area(s) and/or the academic major(s) counted in the "Other" category.

If your IHE offers both traditional and alternative programs, be sure to enter the program completers in the appropriate reports. For the traditional report, provide only the program completers in traditional programs within the IHE. For the alternative report, provide only the program completers for the alternative programs within the IHE.

After entering the teachers prepared data, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Teachers Prepared by Academic Major

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by academic major for academic year 2017-18. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Academic major" refers to the actual major(s) declared by the program completer. An individual can be counted in more than one academic major. If no individuals were prepared in a particular academic major, please leave that cell blank. (§205\(b\)\(1\)\(H\))

Please note that the list of majors includes several "Teacher Education" majors, as well as several noneducation majors. Please use care in entering your majors to ensure education-specific majors and non-education majors are counted correctly. For example, if an individual majored in Chemistry, that individual should be counted in the "Chemistry" academic major category rather than the "Teacher Education–Chemistry" category.

Program Completers

On this page, enter the total number of individuals who completed the program in AY 2017-18 and the two prior academic years. If you submitted an IPRC last year, the number of program completers for the two prior academic years are pre-loaded from your prior year's report.

A program completer is a person who has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program. Program completers include all those who are documented as having met such requirements. Documentation may take the form of a degree, institutional certificate, program credential, transcript or other written proof of having met the program's requirements. In applying this definition, the fact that an individual has or has not been recommended to the state for initial certification or licensure may not be used as a criterion for determining who is a program completer.

An individual cannot be classified as both enrolled and as a program completer at the same time. An enrolled individual is not a program completer. Once an individual has met all the requirements of a state-approved teacher preparation program and becomes a program completer, the individual is no longer classified as enrolled.

After entering the program completers, save the page using the floating save box at the bottom of the page.

Annual Goals

On this page, review the annual goals in each subject area listed below. If you submitted an IPRC last year, the goals you entered last year are pre-loaded from your prior year's report. Please respond to the questions to report on progress towards the goals, and set new goals for the next academic year.

Annual Goals - Mathematics

Each institution of higher education (IHE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative route to state credential program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(A\)\(ii\), §206\(a\))

Information about teacher shortage areas can be found at <https://www2.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ope/pol/tsa.html>.

Please provide the information below about your program's goals to increase the number of prospective teachers in mathematics in each of three academic years.

Academic year 2017-18

1. Did your program prepare teachers in mathematics in 2017-18?

- Yes
- No (leave remaining questions for year blank)

2. How many prospective teachers did your program plan to add in mathematics in 2017-18?

1

3. Did your program meet the goal for prospective teachers set in mathematics in 2017-18?

- Yes
- No
- Not applicable

4. Description of strategies used to achieve goal, if applicable:

5. Description of steps to improve performance in meeting goal or lessons learned in meeting goal, if applicable:

We have been experiencing stable and slightly lower completer numbers in mathematics due, at least in part, to a decline in overall University enrollment. We will continue to work closely with the faculty in the Math Department and with K-12 teachers across the region to attract more students into math education. In addition, we are currently in the process of revising the graduate initial licensure program to attract more career changes by making a distance-available program condensed into a summer-fall-spring-summer sequence. If approved by the faculty and University, these changes would be available in the summer of 2020.

6. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

The number of science completers was higher in 16-17 than it had been in the previous five years, but was lower in 17-18. We have been experiencing lower completer numbers in science due, at least in part, to a decline in overall University enrollment. We will continue to work closely with the faculty in the science departments across campus and with K-12 teachers across the region to attract more students into science education. In addition, we are currently in the process of revising the graduate initial licensure program to attract more career changes by making a distance-available program condensed into a summer-fall-spring-summer sequence. If approved by the faculty and University, these changes would be available in the summer of 2020.

UM's Teacher Education Program was awarded a grant to train special education teachers and provide funding for candidates and additional financial and academic supports. As the grant ended, the program enrollment declined. Consequently, the program had to develop new strategies for recruitment. Beginning in the summer of 2018, we began offering the special education coursework during the summer and online both during the summer and the academic year on a rotating basis to attract more students and current teachers into the endorsement program. We have also started a partnership with Stone Child College (a Montana tribal college) to offer the coursework and funding for current teachers wanting to add this additional area of licensure.

6. Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

While this report only asks for information regarding initial licensure candidates, many current teachers return to complete the coursework to add the special education endorsement to their teaching license. This is an important pipeline for the program and means to address the teacher shortage in the area of special education. For example, this added an additional 6 special education teachers to Montana school districts for the 17-18 school year.

The English as a Second Language (ESL) program at UM is very small and only offered at the senior and graduate level and is more closely geared toward teaching English abroad. There have been ongoing conversations regarding a master's degree in instruction of English Language Learners, but limited faculty and University funding have slowed this effort.

8. Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

The UM educator preparation program works closely with partners across campus, local and state P-12 schools, and national colleagues and programs to meet the needs of teacher candidates and new teachers. We have regular meetings of the Professional Education Council which includes P-12 representatives, survey program completers and employers, and meet frequently with local teachers and administrators to adapt and plan clinical experiences and course content. We recently started rural education scholarships, online special education coursework, and ESL clinical experiences in direct result of these partnerships. We also received a new $1.5 million grant to work in conjunction with the local school district in training teachers. In Montana, special education teachers must also complete a general education teacher preparation program as special education is not a stand-alone licensure area. All general education teachers complete courses in exceptionalities, literacy (including instruction to limited English proficient students), and educational psychology and are assessed and evaluated within these areas.

Assessment Pass Rates

The pass rates table is populated from files provided by the testing company or state. The table provides information on the performance of the students in your teacher preparation program on each teacher credential assessment used by your state. In cases where a student has taken a given assessment more than once, the highest score on that test is used. In the case of a teacher preparation program with fewer than 10 scores reported on any single initial teacher credential assessment during an academic year, the program shall collect and publish information with respect to an average pass rate and scaled score on each state credential assessment taken over a three-year period. \(§205\(a\)\(1\)\(B\)\)

Please note that this page does not have an edit feature as the pass rates have already been through several rounds of verification. If you identify an error, please contact Westat's Title II Support Center and your testing company representative.

Use of Technology

1. Provide the following information about the use of technology in your teacher preparation program. Please note that choosing 'yes' indicates that your teacher preparation program would be able to provide evidence upon request. (§205\(a\)\(1\)\(F\))

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- a. integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction

Yes
 No

- b. use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning

Yes
 No

- c. use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning

Yes
 No

- d. use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning

Yes
 No

2. Provide a description of the evidence that your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of the evidence your program uses to show that it prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

Teacher candidates at both the undergraduate and graduate levels are required to take a technology course. There is an assignment each teacher candidate completes which is scored on a standardized rubric and is a part of the teacher education program assessment system for evaluation and accreditation purposes. During this course the teacher candidates also learn to use Excel to collect, manage, and analyze data. In their methods courses, they are required to use technology in lessons. We also try to place all of our students in technology rich environments. As a program capstone with student teaching, all teacher candidates complete an applied research and reflective practice project involving assessment to analyze data using technology to improve student achievement. The clinical experience assessments throughout the program specifically assess how well teacher candidates maintain accurate records and communicate with families, use assessment in instruction, and reflect on teaching, all of which involve the use of technology. Universal Design for Learning is introduced in the required exceptionalities course and implemented in methods courses which all teacher candidates complete. As documented during our state and NCATE accreditation visit, the initial licensure program has an assessment system (E-PAS) which contains information on all candidates and is reviewed by the program and all related programs across the Professional Education Unit to evaluate and improve teaching and learning. This system contains the information described above. Additionally, as part of this process, the program gathers evidence via completer and employer surveys on completers' ability to differentiate instruction on learners' development, for English Language Learners, and the learning needs of all students. It also includes a question on the completers' ability to purposefully use instructional technology.

Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

EDU 345 Exceptionalities and Classroom Management or EDU 346 Exceptionalities is required for all licensure students and covers all of these topics. The syllabi states the student in this course will be able to: identify the cognitive and behavioral characteristics of exceptionalities as well as the principles of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA); explain the function of Individual Education Programs (IEP) as well as Response to Intervention (RTI) strategies and discern the roles of the classroom teacher in each; cultivate instructional methods and adaptations as well as an array of curricular content including Indian Education for All to meet the needs of all learners; utilize resources supported by Universal Design for Learning (UDL) to embolden lessons that meet the needs of all learners; understand the key aspects of Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS); integrate Functional Behavioral Assessments (FBA) to support positive behavior. Universal Design for Learning is also implemented across subject-specific methods courses which all teacher candidates complete. Working with students who are limited English proficient is also incorporated into EDU 331 Children's Literature and Literacy, EDU 397 Early Literacy P-3, EDU 339 Methods: Language Arts PK-8, EDU 497 Methods: 4-8 Reading and EDU 481 Content Area Literacy. As documented during our state and NCATE accreditation visit, the initial licensure program has an assessment system (E-PAS) which contains information on all candidates and is reviewed by the program and all related programs across the Professional Education Unit to evaluate and improve teaching and learning. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

All students in the Teacher Education Program are required to take EDU 345 Exceptionalities and Classroom Management or EDU 346 Exceptionalities as described above. Those teacher candidates who are seeking an endorsement in special education are required to take 24 more credits in special education. These credits include literacy diagnosis and assessment, early intervention, assessment, transitions and community supports, advanced academic interventions, low incidence disabilities, positive behavior supports, and special education law which delve into these topics in more depth. Additionally, all special education teacher candidates complete a separate special education student teaching experience. As documented during our state and NCATE accreditation visit, the initial licensure program has an assessment system (E-PAS) which contains information on all candidates and is reviewed by the program and all related programs across the Professional Education Unit to evaluate and improve teaching and learning. This system contains the information specific to the coursework and student teaching experience described above. Additionally, as part of this process, the program gathers evidence via completer and employer surveys for all special education program completers.
