Latest COVID-19 Related Travel Updates

On January 25, President Biden signed an order that bars most non-U.S. citizens who have recently been in South Africa from entering the United States. The order also reimposes an entry ban imposed by former President Trump, set to expire on January 26, on almost all non-U.S. travelers from Brazil, Ireland, the United Kingdom, and all 26 European countries, (the Schengen area), that allow travel across open borders. Exceptions remain in place for certain travelers from the Schengen area, United Kingdom, and Ireland who meet certain criteria, including academics and students. In addition to travel restrictions, President Biden issued an executive order requiring a negative COVID-19 test result for airline passengers traveling to the United States.

Finally, U.S. Customs and Border Protection extended through February 21, the COVID-19 restrictions that allow entry to the United States through land ports of entry along the U.S.-Canada and U.S. - Mexico borders for "essential travel" only. At this time, travel to attend an educational institution is considered "essential."

The International Students & Scholars staff will continue to monitor the situation. Regular updates can be found on our website: <https://www.umt.edu/global-engagement/default.php>

Sustainability Opportunity: Green Office Program

Looking to get more involved in campus sustainability?

Sign up for the Green Office Program! A Green Office is a community of peers that has committed to sustainable, healthy and environmentally friendly practices in their work space. It's a great opportunity to engage with your colleagues, build community and implement sustainability solutions. Contact madeleine.jones@mso.umt.edu for more information.

Need help with note taking? We've got your back.

UM has two software packages, Sonocent and Glean, to help you capture and organize lecture notes.

Sonocent is an audio note-taker software that makes it easy to capture everything on a topic in one workspace. It will allow you to:

- Edit and record lectures.
- Sync lecture audio to slides, diagrams, photos, written notes and reference materials.
- Read and notate accessible textbooks and PDFs.

Lectures can be recorded on a cell phone and easily transferred to PC or Mac.

Glean recordings are cloud-based and available across all computer platforms that can run on the Chrome browser, including Chromebooks. Glean can provide the majority of benefits of an audio notetaker but without the ability to read and notate accessible PDFs. Additionally, Glean has an iPhone and Android app allowing note taking and online access on smartphones and tablets.

* Both software are available to students, faculty and staff.

Accademia dell'Arte - ISEP, Italy

By Aline Guy

The Summer Physical Theatre Intensive at the Accademia dell'Arte offers students and artists opportunities to spend one month inside a conservatory training program. The focus of the summer courses is on self-generated work and devising from various perspectives. The course offerings vary every summer and give artists tools from diverse fields of physical theatre in order to explore different approaches to storytelling and devised performance. In the spirit of inter-pedagogical exchange, participants will also have the chance to engage in discussions with master teachers from both the dance and physical theatre tracks regarding their philosophies on performance making and choreography.

The Accademia dell'Arte is located in a city called Arezzo, which is about 50 miles southeast of Florence. One of the biggest attractions in the city is the "Piazza Grande". It is the most noteworthy medieval square in the city, opening behind the 13th century Romanesque apse of Santa Maria della Pieve. Known for its odd form because of it being built on a downhill slope, during the Middle Ages, the piazza was the location for the market, and during the Renaissance it became the center of the city's civic life. Every first weekend of the month, on Saturday and Sunday, the Piazza also hosts the major Antiques Fair, one of the most important of its kind in Italy, established in 1968.

Arezzo is also home to the Museum of Medieval and Modern Art, Teatro Petrarca, Lake Trasimeno, and Parks. Once a year, Arezzo hosts a medieval festival called the Saracen Joust (Giostra del Saracino). In this, "knights" on horseback representing different areas of the town charge at a wooden target attached to a carving of a Saracen king and score points according to accuracy. Virtually all the town's people dress up in medieval costume and enthusiastically cheer on the competitors.

The Accademia dell'Arte offers Majors & Minors in Art, Art Studio, English, Film Studies, Theatre and the language of instruction is English.
