International Education Week 2020 at UM

We are excited to bring International Education Week to UM again this year, November 16-20, 2020!

Please join us for one or more of the many exciting offers. International Education Week is a national initiative of the U.S. Department of State and U.S. Department of Education that celebrates the benefits of international education and exchange worldwide. UM has been celebrating International Education week since its inception twenty years ago, under the auspices of the Global Engagement Office (GEO).

This year GEO, in collaboration with campus and community partners, will bring to the UM campus a diversity of free International Education Week programming, all presented virtually via Zoom. The week's offerings will showcase interviews, presentations, opportunities, discussion panels, and UM initiatives, as well as feature cultural experiences and the sharing of international experiences from faculty, staff, and student voices. You will have opportunity to hear from the UM and Missoula community, and from partners across the US and abroad.

Please check our website feature where the International Education Week schedule will be posted soon, including links on how to access each event.

Need help with note taking? We've got your back.

UM has two software packages, Sonocent and Glean, to help you capture and organize lecture notes.

Sonocent is an audio note-taker software that makes it easy to capture everything on a topic in one workspace. It will allow you to:

- Edit and record lectures.
- Sync lecture audio to slides, diagrams, photos, written notes and reference materials.
- Read and notate accessible textbooks and PDFs.

Lectures can be recorded on a cell phone and easily transferred to PC or Mac.

Glean recordings are cloud-based and available across all computer platforms that can run on the Chrome browser, including Chromebooks. Glean can provide the majority of benefits of an audio notetaker but without the ability to read and notate accessible PDFs. Additionally, Glean has an iPhone and Android app allowing note taking and online access on smartphones and tablets.

* Both software are available to students, faculty and staff.

Get Ready For Study Abroad

Curious about your options to study abroad in 2021?

Join us November 16–20 for a week of virtual Education Abroad information sessions and presentations. UM faculty, international partners, and Education Abroad will be hosting live events to highlight program options and guide you on your next steps. Program directors from University College Cork, the Critical Language Scholarship, our third-party program ISEP, and many more will be attending to give students a comprehensive and exciting look into the world of study abroad. Looking forward to seeing you there!

Education Abroad's webpage will have more details regarding the events in the coming weeks.

Mansfield Center Awarded $4.2
Million Grant

UM's Maureen and Mike Mansfield Center, together with three U.S. partners, recently was awarded a joint \$4.2 million grant from the U.S. Department of State Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs to support international civic engagement efforts.

The Young Southeast Asian Leaders Initiative (YSEALI) Professional Fellows Program will offer 200 emerging leaders from 11 countries in Southeast Asia a rigorous professional development and leadership exchange program focusing on civic engagement, economic empowerment, governance and society, and sustainable development and the environment. It also will support 50 U.S. Fellows in a reciprocal travel program.

“In a state whose population regards international engagement as a unique and necessary activity, UM is known as a leader in supporting Montanans to better compete in a global economy,” said Deena Mansour, the center’s executive director. “The Mansfield Center is honored to continue hosting the YSEALI Professional Fellows Program to support Montanans in fostering global mutual understanding, enhancing leadership skills and building lasting partnerships.”

Featured Partner University with the University of Montana:

Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez, Chile

By Aline Guy

The Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez (UAI) is a private, nonprofit institution legally incorporated in 1988. Its primary mission is to provide an education based on personal responsibility and freedom, which enables its students to fully develop their intellectual and human potential.

UAI offers undergraduate programs and continuing education programs (master's degrees for professionals, graduate certificates and courses) which are recognized as among the best in the country and in Latin America.

In 2019, the university had a total of 7,661 students enrolled in 12 different undergraduate degree programs and 3,365 graduate students enrolled in 50 masters' and 7 doctoral degree programs. The university currently has three campuses in Chile:

Peñalolén – set at the base of the Andes mountains and the campus is considered one of the greenbelts of the district.

Viña del Mar – Known for its impressive view of the ocean and Presidente Errázuriz Site – Located near to the El Golf district, one of Santiago's financial districts.

If you like to explore outdoors and enjoy a good wine, Chile is the best destination for you. In Chile you can visit the Atacama Desert which is the driest place on Earth and has beautiful landscape. You can also visit Valparaiso which has a historical central area, declared a Unesco World Heritage site in 2003.

If you go there in the winter season, you can ski at Valle Nevado, the most modern ski destination in Chile.

The Universidad Adolfo Ibáñez offers Majors & Minors in Art, Art History and Criticism, Business Administration, Communication Studies, Education, English, History, International Business, Latin American Studies, Law, Liberal Studies, Management, Media Arts, Psychology, and Spanish. The language of instruction is Spanish.
