Paramedicine Application Form #1 – Spring 2024 Admission

Acknowledgment of Program Requirements

All Paramedicine programs require a significant commitment of time and effort. Students must be dedicated and organized in order to successfully meet the rigorous program requirements in Paramedicine lecture, laboratory, and clinical experiences.

The Missoula College Paramedicine Faculty are committed to assisting you to succeed. There is a working partnership between Paramedicine students and their instructors for students to gain the knowledge and skills necessary to advance in the program and, ultimately, to become excellent and caring paramedics. To achieve this, students must take responsibility for their own learning. This means, not only reading assigned material, but also contemplating it so that you are fully prepared to engage in class discussions and interactions.

Students must understand the expectations of the program:

- An expectation of a minimum of two hours of study per week for each credit enrolled. Most students spend more time than the minimal study expectation to be able to pass courses with a B grade, and to fully comprehend the lecture material and gain the required skills.

- We understand the possible need to work to support yourself and/or a family. However, most students find it very difficult to work fulltime and still succeed in their classes. Additionally, clinical experiences are scheduled when facilities have availability, and it is possible that changes can be made by them with short notice. Clinical hours may include long days, evenings, weekends, and night shifts. Students will be apprised of their clinical schedule each semester.

- Students are required to attend all lecture, lab and clinical courses. Missed courses may result in failure of courses and dismissal from the Paramedicine program. Please do not make vacation plans that would affect attendance in class or clinical. In most cases, absences cannot be made up due to the amount of material and skills covered in lectures and labs, and the limited availability of clinical experiences.

- Students will find that the amount of material covered, and the pace of the program require more time and effort than in their experience with prior undergraduate courses so Paramedicine students may not achieve the grades they have received in non-Paramedicine courses. In the Paramedicine program, students basically learn a “new language” and are exposed to complex and comprehensive Paramedicine concepts that may require more effort and class interaction to truly comprehend and absorb. The primary focus in the Paramedicine program is learning, comprehension, and ability to apply the concepts and skills required to deliver safe and competent patient care.

- You are expected to be prepared for every class, lab, and clinical experience. Extensive reading, pre-clinical preparation, and other assignments are required.

- The majority of the Paramedicine program tests are modeled to be comparable to the paramedicine licensing exam. The tests are comprised of application, analysis, and synthesis-type questions rather than simple knowledge and recall, therefore critical thinking is required to answer questions correctly.

- Students are provided learning and test-taking strategies to nurture the critical thinking skills required to be successful in the program, on the Paramedicine licensure exam, and as a lifelong learner, as well as a competent and continually advancing paramedic.

I certify that all of the statements in my application document submissions are true and accurate to the best of my knowledge. I acknowledge that I have read and understand the above statements and if I am accepted into Missoula College’s AAS program, I agree to organize my time and personal commitments so that I can meet the demands and requirements necessary to succeed.
