2022 President’s Outstanding Senior Award
College of Business

Nathanael Isaac Lacorte
Finance
Professor Tony Crawford

Before moving to UM to Complete his degree, Nate served our country as part of the Military. While completing his degree in Finance, Nate continued to serve as a member of the UM ROTC Grizzly Battalion. Nate was an outstanding Finance student, and is remembered by his faculty as intellectually curious and an engaged classroom participant - even when class was on Zoom. Since graduating in December of 2021, Nate continues to serve as a Budget Analyst for the Montana National Guard.

Allison B. Voels
Accounting
Professor Tony Crawford

Before studying at UM, Allison was a baker, and spent three years helping supply yummy baked goods to UM dining services and coffee shops. While baking for UM dining services, Allison began her pursuit of an Accounting degree and quickly proved herself to be academically gifted. Allison is well regarded by her professors and her peers, and is a member of Phi Kappa Phi, Betta Gamma Sigma, and Beta Alpha Psi honor societies. Allison will graduate with a degree in Accounting, and a certificate in Accounting Information Systems. She is currently interning with Lee and Company in Missoula, and upon graduation will enter the Master of Accountancy Program. She will be CPA eligible in the summer of 2023.

Hannah Shelley
Marketing
Professor Isho Tama-Sweet

Hannah Shelley’s academic performance is consistently at the top of her class. Her course work shows not only that she is an intellectual powerhouse but also a highly creative person. For example, based on her market research project for martial arts apparel, she could successfully start her own business, while her project on biophilia suggests the development of a new paradigm in the field of architecture. We expect a bright future for Hannah.

<tr>
<td>Petra Slater</td>
<td>Management Information Systems</td>
<td>Professor Isho Tama-Sweet</td>
<td>Petra served as the vice-president of our award-winning student chapter of the Management Information Systems Association (MISA). She has inspired students to pursue the MIS degree through her involvement with MISA and coming into classes to talk the club and career opportunities for MIS students. She is a role model to the students in the College of Business and the MIS department. After graduation, Petra will begin her career with KPMG in New York City with their financial transformation group.</td>

<td>Faith Edmister</td>
<td>Management</td>
<td>Professor Isho Tama-Sweet</td>
<td>In her time at the University of Montana, Faith has been an excellent student. Even more importantly, she has consistently demonstrated the positive attitude, initiative, and creative thinking that is vital for success in academics and the real world. It has been a pleasure to see Faith grow into her leadership skills in her role as secretary of the SHRM Student Chapter. She has been a vital part of getting this new student group off the ground. We are all so excited to see Faith’s positive impact on the world!</td>

<tr>
<td>Mollie Lebel</td>
<td>International Business</td>
<td>Professor Isho Tama-Sweet</td>
<td>Mollie is a very conscientious young woman. She demonstrated a personal drive to improve and succeed in her work, showing a level of maturity that is rare in today’s stress-filled academic setting. She required more of herself than what was minimally required of her. She continued to apply the same level of commitment, maturity, and curiosity when instruction went remote. Doing so required she develop additional skill sets such as perseverance, courage, and trust that her decisions and efforts would allow her to not only to succeed, but to thrive. We are extraordinarily proud of what Mollie has accomplished in her studies and who she is as a person.</td>
